5. Advisor

1. Thank you to anyone who took their anti-hazing training. Please tell your clubs to get their training done and turn in their certificates. There might be a nice little reward for the club that turns in the most certificates. The more of you that take this the better off Shawnee State is
2. Jonna Cook is back in the office on Tuesdays and Thursdays, to take money for clubs from your fundraisers after she will place the money into the club accounts. She works remotely on other days. If you ordered something for your clubs, be sure to check in with her to find out if what you ordered is there. She's here 7:30-4:30 pm, don't hesitate to email her at jcook@shawnee.edu
3. In the list of forms, there are liability forms, if it crosses your mind and you think, "should we have a liability form?" just complete it. It protects your club and Shawnee State.

6. Public Views

1. Cassidy Starnes – I represent the student body during the Board of Trustees meetings when different action items and minutes are discussed. One of the biggest items discussed was for Academic Student Affairs and the approval of 2022 graduates. Another item touched on is if there are any students in the school of business, we recently applied to get the Shawnee State accredited, and the evaluation is this April. Shawnee State is also renaming the School of Business, though I cannot disclose that information due to Shawnee State using it for a press release. MOT students have been partnering with Golden Bears, and just going to lunch, going on walks, and building that connection. Shawnee State is also looking for accreditation in the Healthcare Administration Department. In the future, look forward to the better news
2. Sofiia Mikhailichenko – The laundry mat and the machines occasionally stop working. I have called the person in charge and talked to them, let's make sure to use the machines properly and not overfill the machines. If one of the laundry machines is not working, submit a maintenance request so other students aren't attempting to use that machine

No new events are planned just yet, a few other things are trying to do, currently, we are preparing for the presidency transfer to the vice president as I will be graduating soon.

11. Announcements

2. Cassidy Starnes: This year is a little bit different with the Board of Trustees, both students are graduating this semester, which is a little unusual. If you are a Junior or Senior and feel you can represent the student body well, there will be an application for a student trustee position going out soon, you can apply and will have an interview with President Bauer, and he will weed out some of the applications. Afterward, you have an interview with Governor Mike DeWine's office, and if all goes well you then get the position!
3. Tiffany Hartman: Many of you received a questionable email regarding a job opportunity, one of our faculty was hacked, just some general safety, don't forward the email or respond to it. If you take some of the text and google it, you find the hoax job opportunity. If you do notice a fishy email, notify ITS.

4. Rebecca School: SPB is tabling for bingo for the next two weeks, stop by the table and get your bingo card.
5. SGA positions will be opening here soon, as well with the Board of Trustees opening too there are huge opportunities and something to think about if you wanted to get into a leadership role.
6. Ghaida Bouchaala: Thursday Rotaract will be having a booth for a competition called Starup weekend, stop by and see what it is and participate in it, more details in the next weeks.
